Privacy Policy

Preamble

TSV Jahn 05 Düsseldorf Oberkassel e.V. processes personal data automatically in many ways (e.g. in the context of club administration, the organisation of sports operations, the club's public relations work). In order to comply with the requirements of the EU General Data Protection Regulation and the Federal Data Protection Act, to avoid data protection violations and to ensure uniform handling of personal data within the association, the association adopts the following data protection regulations.

§ 1 General

The association processes personal data of members and employees, among others, both automatically in IT systems and non-automatically in a file system, e.g. in the form of printed lists. In addition, personal data is published on the Internet and forwarded to third parties or disclosed to third parties. In all these cases, the EU General Data Protection Regulation, the Federal Data Protection Act and these Data Protection Regulations must be observed by all persons in the association who process personal data.

§ 2 Processing of personal data of members

1. The Association processes the data of different categories of persons. For each category of data subjects, a single sheet is created in the register of processing activities.
2. Within the framework of the membership relationship, the association processes in particular the following data of the members: gender, first name, last name, address (street, house number, postcode, city), date of birth, date of joining the association, department and, if applicable, team membership, bank details, if applicable, the names and contact details of the legal representatives, telephone numbers and e-mail addresses, function in the club, if applicable, household and family membership if assigned to the Family contribution.
3. In the context of membership in the regional associations whose sports are played in the club, personal data of the members will be forwarded to them insofar as the members apply for authorisation to participate in the competitions of the associations (e.g. start pass, player pass, licence) and participate in such events.

§ 3 Data processing in the context of public relations work

1. As part of the public relations work on association activities, personal information is published on notices and on websites and passed on to the press.
2. This includes, in particular, data that comes from generally accessible sources: participants in sporting events, team line-up, results, goalscorers, age or year of birth.
3. The publication of photos and videos taken outside of public events is carried out exclusively on the basis of the consent of the persons depicted.
4. The data of the members of the board, the heads of department and the employees of the office are published on the association's website with first name, last name, function, e-mail address and telephone number.

§ 4 Responsibilities for data processing in the association

The board of directors is responsible for compliance with the data protection requirements in accordance with § 26 BGB. Functionally, the task is assigned to the office, unless the statutes or these regulations regulate otherwise.

The employees of the office ensure that records of processing activities are kept in accordance with Art. 30 GDPR and that the information obligations under Art. 13 and 14 GDPR are fulfilled. They are responsible for responding to requests for information from data subjects.

§ 5 Use and Disclosure of Member Data and Lists

1. Lists of members or participants will be made available to the respective employees in the association (e.g. board members, department heads, trainers) to the extent required by the respective task. With regard to the scope of the personal data used in this context, the principle of data economy must be observed.
2. Personal data of members may only be released to other members of the association if the consent of the data subject has been obtained. The use of participant lists, in which the participants of assemblies and other events enter their names, for example to prove their attendance, is not considered such a release.
3. If a member credibly demonstrates that he or she needs a list of members in order to exercise statutory or statutory rights (e.g. to apply for the convening of a general meeting within the framework of the minority petition), the board will provide a copy of the list of members with first name, last name and address as a printout or as a file. The member who initiates the minority petition must first give an assurance that this data will be used exclusively for this purpose and will be destroyed after use.

§ 6 Communication by e-mail

1. For communication by e-mail, the association will set up its own e-mail addresses, which are to be used exclusively in the context of internal communication within the association.
2. When sending e-mails to a large number of persons who are not in constant contact with each other by e-mail and/or whose private e-mail accounts are used, the e-mail addresses must be sent as "bcc".

§ 7 Obligation to Confidentiality

All employees in the association who handle personal data (e.g. members of the board, department heads, trainers, employees of the office) must be obliged to handle personal data confidentially.

§ 8 Data Protection Officer

Since the association usually does not have 10 people permanently involved in the automated processing of personal data, the association does not have to appoint a data protection officer.

§ 9 Establishment and maintenance of websites

1. The association maintains central appearances for the entire association. The establishment and maintenance of websites on the Internet is the responsibility of the board and the employees of the office. Changes may only be made by the administrator and the administrator.
2. The Board of Directors is responsible for compliance with data protection regulations in connection with online presences.
3. Departments, groups and teams require the express approval of the board of directors to set up their own websites (e.g. homepage, Facebook, Twitter). For the operation of a website, the departments, groups and teams must appoint responsible persons to whom the board is authorized to issue instructions. In the event of violations of data protection regulations and disregard of instructions, the board of directors can revoke the approval for the operation of a website in accordance with § 26 BGB. The decision of the board of directors pursuant to § 26 of the German Civil Code (BGB) is incontestable.

§ 10 Violations of data protection regulations and these regulations

1. All employees of the association may only process data within the scope of their respective authorisations. Unauthorized collection, use or disclosure of data is prohibited.
2. Violations of general data protection requirements and in particular of these data protection regulations may be punished in accordance with the sanctions provided for in the statutes.

§ 11 Entry into force

These data protection regulations were adopted by the full board of the association on 25.05.2018 and come into force with publication on the homepage of the association.
